Genealogical group notes research

Members of the Walker County Genealogical Society Saturday heard a review on research for family data and books that have help for those searching for ancestors, by Jeanne Roby Felldin of Tomball-Magnolia.

Mrs. Felldin has a rental, sales and publishing library. She has the Stagecoach library where she shares her books, many of them rare.

Mrs. William R. Lynch presided over the meeting. The group discussed the genealogical books that are now at Huntsville Public Library. These books may be used in the library, but may not be checked out.

Mrs. Felldin presented the library with a volume of Stagecoach quarterly. Then Mrs. J. Rush Stewart, vice president, presented Mrs. Felldin with two publications.
