

Workshop Set October 7 For Genealogical Society

The Walker County Genealogical Society will have a workshop on Saturday, Oct. 7, from 9:30 AM to 3 PM at the Huntsville Public Library.

Mrs. T.E. Humphrey, president, stated that Mrs. Mary H. Stancliff, a well-known Houston genealogist, would conduct the workshop, helping with any problems and answering questions.

Mrs. Stancliff wrote a genealogical column in the Houston Post for a while and has had published several books of courthouse records of Tennessee.

All members and former members of the society are invited to attend, and any other Walker County residents who are interested in genealogical research and compiling their family history are welcome.

There will be a small charge of $1.00 for non-members of the society. Each person attending is asked to bring his or her own sack lunch. Coffee and iced tea will be furnished.

Mrs. Humphrey asks that anyone desiring to attend this workshop contact her no later than Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 4.

Members of the Walker County Genealogical Society met Saturday at the new library for their regular September meeting.

Mrs. Humphrey presided at the business session. The group decided that the workshop would take the place of the regular October meeting.

Miss Linda Olson, librarian at the Huntsville Public Library, spoke to the society about the genealogical corner in one of the public libraries in Lubbock and discussed some of the methods used by the genealogical society members there in assisting one another.

Light refreshments were served before Miss Olson gave a conducted tour of the library.
